

[About vulnerability at CPU (Meltdown and Spectre)]

This is to announce about result and status of our verification on vulnerability at CPU (Meltdown and Spectre). Please accept that the results as follow subject to be updated depending on announcements by CPU vendors.

1. Surveillance system equipment (Model number starts from “WV-”, “WJ-” and “BL-”)

Influence

At this time, we have judged that there is no influence of this vulnerability on our surveillance system equipment. And, we have no any reports caused by this vulnerability so far from the markets.

2. Application software for the surveillance system equipment Influence

At this time, we have judged that there is no influence of this vulnerability on our application software. And, we have no any reports caused by this vulnerability so far from the markets.

3. Personal Computer or Smart Phone Influence

Regarding our application, we have determined that there is no influence on this vulnerability as described above, but for customers who install our company's application into the PC or Smart Phone, It may be affected depending on the customer's environment.

Please confirm the necessity of countermeasures against this vulnerability and ask manufacturer or vendor of your PC and Smart Phone for appropriate actions.

We will promptly announce the information at our Web site and/or appropriate methods in case we need to update the countermeasures against the vulnerability for our surveillance system equipment / application software.